What did last year's delegates have to say about the conference?

97% of last year's delegates said that they will attend again this year.

78% made an investment decision based on the information they gathered at the event.

85% said that the exhibitors and company presentations increased their interest in new investment opportunities that they, otherwise, would have been unaware of.

74% said that they couldn't have learned the information they gathered from this conference on the Internet.

93% said that this conference provides superior speakers and helpful investment advice.

It's a great environment to learn about small, publicly-traded mining companies with great potential for stock appreciation that you, otherwise, couldn't find on your own.

I liked the direct interaction I had with the top people in each company that I'm interested in.

Great information on current and forward-looking global economic trends not found in the mainstream press.

It's a very professionally-run, informative event that really does give an investor opportunity to gain good ideas and the opportunity to network with people on a face-to-face basis.

Top Analysts Share Their Secrets

With the Federal Reserve running the printing press at full speed and recession spreading all over the globe, it's no secret that currencies are in trouble. Hard assets like gold and silver and companies that mine them are your best bet to profit in times like these!

The San Francisco Hard Assets Investment Conference offers the most comprehensive advice on how to diversify, protect and grow your portfolio with natural resources investments – directly from top analysts. With over 20 years of assembly, this conference wrote the book on how to provide a valuable experience for metals, commodities and energy investors.

This FREE conference offers:

- ➔ The hottest investment strategies and trends. Learn first-hand how to protect every dollar you have by strategizing and properly positioning your portfolio.
- ➔ Two days of valuable content. Attendees will benefit from professional presentations, investment workshops and panels from top analysts and economic specialists.
- ➔ Wealth-building strategies to actually help you profit during, and after, the crisis.
- ➔ Interaction with fellow investors, natural resources investing experts and exhibitors, all buzzing about the next hot commodity and investment opportunities!

Don't miss the unbeatable interaction with popular economists and newsletter editors that can only be achieved in person! This is our most popular conference of the year and will draw more attention as precious metals rise and base metals follow.

OPTIONAL WORKSHOPS:

Geology 101: A Primer for the Lay Investor

Hosted by:
Mickey Fulp

This beginner's workshop shows you how to use mining project information to make informed investment decisions. Learn how to interpret drill results, the difference between resources and reserves, how deposits are mined and processed, and the economics of mineral deposits.

Held Saturday, November 21st (evening).

McEwen Junior Gold Index Workshop

Hosted by:
Rob McEwen

Until only recently, there was no benchmark for measuring the performance of gold juniors against the seniors and against the gold price. In this special limited-seating workshop, you'll learn about the creation of an index that may be the one true proxy of how the junior gold sector is doing. Join Rob McEwen as he explains the selection criteria and methodology that's employed in the modeling behind the MJGI and how you can use it as a tool for making savvy gold investment decisions.

Held Saturday, November 21st (afternoon).
